

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXIX

ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 30, 1896.—TEN PAGES.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

ALL DEMOCRATS URGED TO CAST A VOTE.

Washington, October 29.—The following call was issued tonight from democratic headquarters:

"October 29, 1896.—To the Voters of the United States: In the preliminary battle of the people against the plutocracy the people have in this country, in the magnitude of money so large that the civilized world stands appalled at its magnitude, today a large majority of the people of the United States are in open revolt against the merciless gold standard and the domination of the country by the syndicated wealth of Europe and America, interested in securing or preventing legislation, and in controlling the execution of the laws in their interest. All that is necessary to secure the registering of the people's will is to see that every voter comes to the polls and casts an unpurchased ballot. Many of the millions controlled by the money have been reserved for election day. Beaten at every point, the last resort of money is to buy the ballot of the voter by purchasing his absence from the polls, or to coerce his vote by intimidation. To prevent this is possible if every patriot will do his duty. Every member of a club must go to the polls early in the morning of election day, cast his ballot and remain there until the polls close and the result is announced. Take care that every voter gets to the polls and casts his vote. Note down the names of every absent voter. Let it be known that the citizens who fail to vote, unless prevented by extreme illness, have either been purchased by the money of the corruptists, or is otherwise unworthy to be called a citizen. All signs indicate the overwhelming triumph of the people, and to no organizations is more credit due for this than to the clubs, the people's organizations, created for no selfish purpose and battling for the liberties of the people as in the days of their founder, the illustrious author of the declaration of independence."

"JAMES K. JONES, Chairman Executive Committee."

"CHARLES J. FAULKNER, Chairman Democratic Congressional Committee."

"CHAUNCEY F. BLACK, President National Association Democratic Clubs."

"LAWRENCE GARDNER, Secretary."

He was fixed; his berth was made down and no one could push him from his snug corner for the next term, so he looked on and puffed away in content ease. Every halfway on the senate floor of the capitol was crowded.

The bearded candidate for judge gazing through the glass and announced that the first ballot was on. He could hear the echo of the ballot call.

"They're up on the Southern circuit," he said, "and Thomas is ahead."

There was a responsive yell from the crowd.

"Thomas good in the lead," he announced again.

The friends of the boy candidate from Lowndes set up a chorus of yells.

"Thomas what out?" cried the judge, who in some way had caught the final vote.

"Humphries is beaten by 35 to 73."

The crowd outside set up a diapason of cheers for the lucky candidate, who was leaning against the granite railing of the arcade, mopping his brow.

"Well, they combined against me," he said, "but I worked night and day. Guess I'd better telegraph home."

Then the other ballots began and the crowd increased. Judge Spence was pronounced winner. Everybody whooped. As fast as the general results were declared some one on the outside got the tip and set the corridors in a roar again.

The Press Excluded.

The joint caucus was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock by Hon. Charles Battle, of Muscogee, who was chairman of the previous senate caucus.

Hon. John T. Boleff, of Bibb, placed in nomination for permanent chairman of the joint caucus Hon. W. A. Charters, of Lumpkin, who was unanimously elected.

Hon. John D. Little, of Muscogee, was made secretary.

The first business attended to was the reading of the newspaper news, after a glowing speech by Hon. Fletcher Johnson, of Hall, who had imbibed an idea that it was his duty to read the news for the representatives of the press to remain in caucus.

In the Southern Circuit.

The circuit was placed in a hat and drawn by the clerk, who brought out the Southern circuit first. No judge was to be chosen and the race was for the solicitorship.

Representative West, of Lowndes, placed in nomination W. E. Thomas, of Lowndes. Senator Hopkins placed in nomination W. E. Thomas, of Lowndes. The roll of the senate was called first, resulting in a vote of 19 for Humphries and 16 for Thomas. The total vote cast was 35, Thomas 55. The total vote cast was 173, while 55 was necessary for nomination.

By a majority of 118, West, of Lowndes, who nominated Thomas, cast the eighty-seventh vote, which gave the necessary majority.

Senator Hopkins also placed in nomination, after the result in this race was known, J. N. Hall, of Colquitt, the present incumbent, who was elected by acclamation.

There were surprises. Races which were thought by the candidates themselves to be of a warm character were won out with hands down.

It was after 1 o'clock before the contest between Osborne and Fraser, of the Eastern circuit, was decided. The ballot before that had put Hodges, of the Macon circuit, in a straddle.

With a smile as large as the rim of his hat, rushed into the hall, made a frantic plunge for Osborne and grabbed him about the neck. Charles Hill was sighted and the trio gave each other the politician's hug until they were exhausted.

The Members Gather.

The members of the house and senate gathered at the capitol before 8 o'clock. They assembled in the hall of representatives.

Outside were gathered the candidates and their friends. The spacious rotunda of the capitol was alive with a seething, guessing, restless, impatient throng. The jam of humanity which for a week had filled the lobby of the Kimball was transferred to the immediate scene of action. The crisis had come. Days of doubt had dwindled down to the minute when the political fate of the states would be known. All active voters were finished. There would be no more lobbying, no more button-holing, no more state making. Inside the members of the legislature and those of the senate were securely locked. The one-legged doorkeeper with the ferocity of Cerebus on his crusted countenance, stood guard at the barred portals, grimly defiant to all demands of the curious crowd; and significantly signified as to what was in order before the caucus. A fusillade of questions disturbed him, and to all protestations for news he replied with a slow wave of his gray head.

The judicial eyes of the state were centered there. The legal luminaries of every circuit, from Cherokee to Patuxent, were clustered there. Dignitaries of the bench, bar, men who make the laws, and men who enforce them, all gathered in a shimmering mass.

For the time the dignity of the judge was stripped off and he stood a-tiptoe gazing through the glass door of the ante-chamber and bawling out to the boys the names worn the sacred confines. Men of superior office ran about like school boys at the recess hour. All were restless, all excited. The turning of a single vote was of momentous importance to them. The swerving of a pledged member meant to them more than the casual observer realized. The end of a fierce struggle was at hand. Was it defeat or victory? Was it the splintering of hope, or the assurance of success? They paced the tiled floor, the stern, the imperious officers of the station, and bit their beads in impetuous waiting.

The confident candidate was there, too. He had no opposition; he puffed his cigar in quiet satisfaction and looked on indifferent to the excitement about him.

room. Russell had made a huge fight. He was confident to the end.

Representative Clements, of Gwinnett, nominated C. H. Brand, and Thomas, of Macon, nominated B. B. Robinson.

The first ballot the vote resulted: Brand 121, Russell 54.

The Northern Circuit.

No race had excited keener interest than the contest for the bench in the northern circuit.

Senator Starr, of the forty-third district, nominated J. N. Worley, of Elbert; Representative Thomas, of Clarke, nominated Seaborn Reese, of Hancock, while Representative Hill, of Truitt, placed before the caucus Samuel Hardeman, of Wilkes. J. F. Redding nominated A. G. McCurry, of Hart.

The first ballot resulted: Reese 75, Hardeman 60, Worley 28, McCurry 10.

There was no nomination and the second ballot was ordered, resulting: Reese 82, Hardeman 23, Worley 9.

Judge Reese was declared the nominee.

For the solicitor's place in the northern circuit, Representative Burwell, of Hancock, nominated R. H. Lewis. Representative Johnson, of Madison, nominated David Meadows.

The first ballot resulted: Lewis 102, Meadows 58. Lewis was declared the nominee, and for the remainder of the circuit F. H. Colly, of Wilkes, was named.

Macon Circuit.

The contest in the middle circuit was for solicitor general. Brannan, of Bullock, nominated J. B. Moore, Jr., of Bullock.

Representative Brinson, of Emanuel, nominated Frank Durkin, of the same county. Redding, of Burke, nominated B. B. Robinson, of Johnston, while Senator Mann, of the twenty-second district, placed before the caucus B. T. Rawlins, of Washington.

Rawlins was in a walk in the caucus.

The first ballot resulted: Rawlins 107, Durkin 22, Moore, Jr. 23, Robinson 5. Rawlins was declared the nominee on the first ballot.

Middle Circuit.

No contest in the caucus caused greater excitement outside the capitol than the race for the solicitor general in the middle circuit.

When it was announced that the vote was to be taken, the crowd which had gathered in the capitol until long after midnight pressed into the ante chamber of the hall of representatives and awaited the announcement of the result with bated breath.

The friends of Hon. Robert Hodges had cornered him off in a side room, where they waited for the result of the vote. It was the general opinion that the race would be close and the vote when made known was one of the big surprises of the night.

Senator Thompson, of the fourteenth district, nominated Robert Hodges, of Bibb. Hope Pophill and R. N. Hobbins, of Houston, were placed in nomination against the result was, on the first ballot, as follows: Hodges 104, Pophill 42, Hobbins 23.

For the unexpired term of the solicitor's place, Reed, of Bibb, nominated J. Lane, and he was named by acclamation.

For judge, William H. Felton, Jr., was nominated by Boleff, of Bibb. He was named by acclamation.

Brunswick Circuit.

In the Brunswick circuit the name of George Mabry was withdrawn and the field was left to J. W. Bennett, who was elected by acclamation. W. M. Toomer was nominated for the unexpired term.

Cherokee Circuit.

The race in the Cherokee circuit was hard fought. In the caucus it was difficult to determine who would be elected until after one-half of the votes had been cast, but in the end Judge Jones' report that he had secured the support of the majority put him ahead of Tom Jones and put him in the lead. Upon the vote for the judgeship J. received 100 ballots, Jones 72.

For solicitor general, S. P. Madril, of Whitfield, and J. T. Lumpkin, of Dade, were nominated. After the ballot had proceeded for a short while, the name of Lumpkin was withdrawn and Maddox was nominated by acclamation.

Eastern Circuit.

It was after 1 o'clock when it was announced in the corridors of the capitol that the fight for the solicitorship of the Eastern circuit was on. The friends of the two candidates, some of whom had been doing for hours in convenient corners, woke up and rushed into the lobbies. It was the climax of the caucus.

No one was certain of the results. Osborne was confident. Fraser said he had it under his wing. The announcement of the result was like the explosion of a Chinese bomb. The most sanguine anticipated the Osborne faction had not placed their ballot beyond the 100 mark.

The official vote gave Osborne 124, Fraser 42.

Oconee Circuit.

In the Oconee circuit the race for the judgeship resulted: C. C. Smith 113, John F. Delaney 26.

This was the last race decided. At 1:45 this morning the caucus adjourned to meet again next Monday night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of making further nominations in uncontested districts.

BOTH SIDES TALK

What Chairman Jones and Boss Hanna Are Saying.

CLAIMS THAT THE TWO MAKE

Viewed Impartially, Democracy Is in the Lead.

A DIAGNOSIS OF THE SITUATION

How the Reports for Headquarters Are Obtained—Hanna Buys His Figures and Jones Depends on the Patriotism of State Workers.

Chicago, October 29.—(Special.)—The fight is over. McKinley is as good as elected.

Bryan's election is assured. I am as confident of it as I ever was of any political event.

CHAIRMAN JONES.

That is the way the news goes to the public from the two opposing great political parties at battle with one another in this campaign.

Mark Hanna is, to all outward appearances, perfectly confident that McKinley will be elected.

Senator Jones is even more confident that Bryan will be elected, and he believes that Bryan's election will be by an overwhelming majority.

One of them has undoubtedly made a very bad miscalculation. Hanna relies upon what his brigadier generals tell him. He has provided them with all the money they have called for, and has accepted their reports as correct.

On the other hand, Senator Jones has been unable to provide his brigadier generals with any money. Nevertheless, they have brought in detailed reports from every state and from every county in every state in the union. These detailed reports, made without prejudice or inducement, are overwhelmingly favorable to the election of Mr. Bryan.

Senator Jones and Mark Hanna know that there is a tremendous vote in every state in the union, which neither side is confident of. That is illustrated by the situation here in Chicago. As close as polls have been made of the different wards, both campaign committees admit that there is not less than 50,000 voters in this city constituting an unknown quantity. That vote may go either way, or it may split.

Hanna declares, with a flourish of trumpets, that it is his Jones' frank admission that it is an unknown quantity, though he believes it will be for Bryan.

I talked with Senator Jones for an hour today. He is absolutely and earnestly confident. He counts upon Minnesota, Michigan and Indiana, the alleged doubtful states, as surely for Bryan.

Chicago Is a Keystone.

He has some doubt about the state of Illinois. He thinks it may go from 10,000 to 20,000 for Bryan, or that it may go by a similar, or even larger vote, for McKinley.

It all depends upon Chicago. Chicago is like Paris in some respects. The people act on impulse and stamped on the slightest provocation.

Today all Chicago is in a hurrah of enthusiasm for Bryan. He has set this city fairly wild, with rampant demonstrations of enthusiastic good will. Though he speaks from ten to fifteen times daily, no hall has as yet been found to be large enough to hold the crowd that has turned out in any one section of the city.

The demonstrators are unprecedented. The people are wild to see him and hear him.

REPUBLICANS OPENLY GUILTY OF TREASON.

Chicago, Ill., October 29.—The Chicago Times-Herald, the personal organ of McKinley, prints the following on its editorial page today:

"After all, is universal suffrage an unqualified success and a finally in republican government? When nearly all the voting population endorses the inhumanity of slavery in one generation and in the next a large minority run wild after a fantastic scheme to cheat their neighbors and reduce their own wages by debasing the money of the country, what shall we conclude as to the safety at all times of government by a majority of all the voters?"

This infamous screed is signed by E. V. Smalley, editor of campaign literature at republican national headquarters. Smalley is employed and paid by Mark Hanna as chairman of the republican national committee. What Smalley sends to the press has the official sanction of his employer, and this infamous assault upon popular government is as significant as if issued over Hanna's own signature. Hanna, as chairman, represents McKinley, and in thus announcing the position of the republican party Smalley, the employee, voices the sentiments of Hanna and McKinley. Lauterbach's "We may not submit" was significant: Bishop Worthington's over-education diatribe was an insult to American citizenship, but it remained for an editorial writer at national republican headquarters to make the reasonable announcement that the wreck of the republican party, owned and mortgaged by Mark Hanna, considers popular government a failure, and the right of a majority of the people to rule themselves a right that should be taken from them. In the Weekly Financial Review, published by the New York banking house of Henry Clews & Co., a significant statement is made in the issue of April 18, 1896. It thoroughly substantiates the prediction that the election of McKinley and the continuance of the gold standard means an inevitable reduction in wages.

Thousands of votes have been changed by his magnetic eloquence, sound logic and straightforward presentation of facts. Bryan is truly a wonder, and was with him last night when he concluded his speech making tour on the south side. He reached his hotel at 12:30 o'clock. He had been speaking in stuffy halls, where the heat was intense. When he came home he bore the appearance of a man who had taken a Turkish bath in his full clothing. But for the fact that, after these speeches he is rubbed down with the care that is given to a race horse, he could not have stood it so long; but, as it is, his physical strength has not weakened a particle. His voice is sometimes a bit husky, but always full enough to reach the furthest man in any hall he has yet spoken in.

When I met him last night his first words were about the lamented and honored Judge Crisp.

"For the solicitor's place in the northern circuit, Representative Burwell, of Hancock, nominated R. H. Lewis. Representative Johnson, of Madison, nominated David Meadows."

The first ballot resulted: Lewis 102, Meadows 58. Lewis was declared the nominee, and for the remainder of the circuit F. H. Colly, of Wilkes, was named."

HER HUSBAND WAS THE HIGHWAYMAN

Kaiser Killed His Wife, Hid the Valuables and Shot Himself.

BANDITS CHARGED WITH CRIME

Story of the Wounded Man Doubtful and Investigation Follows.

ARTICLES OF JEWELRY AND PISTOL FOUND

Joint Insurance Policy for $10,000 with Wills Left Indicating That the Murder Was Planned.

Norristown, Pa., October 29.—A murder unparalleled in the annals of crime in Montgomery county was committed early last evening on a public road in upper Marion township, near Bridgeport. Emma Kaiser, the young wife of Charles O. Kaiser, Jr., was shot down as she rode along with her husband, who an hour later was receiving the contents of a trunk, but who today stands accused of the crime.

The first information of the tragedy was received when Kaiser drove into Bridgeport with the body of his wife beside him. The only witness of the crime was the alleged murderer himself, and the only details to be had were gleaned from him first by Frank S. Mancill, of the Farmers hotel, and later by the police.

Mr. Mancill, accompanied by his daughter, was driving to Norristown, and when he reached a point on the road skirting William P. David's farm near the Trenton cut off railroad, he saw Kaiser circling wildly about in the road shouting "Murder!" "Help!"

In a carriage standing in the road lay Mrs. Kaiser dead. Alighting from his vehicle Mr. Mancill listened to Kaiser's story of a highway robbery and the shooting of himself and wife. Kaiser appeared to be frenzied with agony and Mr. Mancill suggested that probably the woman was only unconscious and that the best thing to do was to drive to the office of a physician. Kaiser was finally persuaded to drive ahead of Mr. Mancill's team to the office of Dr. Mannin, in Bridgeport.

Kaiser propped the body between his shoulder and the carriage curtain, the blood streaming from the wound and clotting on his coat. The body was carried in the office and when it was placed on the floor, exposing the ghastly wound in the left temple, Kaiser twice fainted. Kaiser said that his wife was shot as she was drawing her watchchain over her head to hand it to the husband and that he saw his arm and received a bullet near the shoulder that was intended for his head.

The police doubted the story and began an investigation and this morning Chief of Police Rodenbaugh, Coroner Kurts and Mr. Mancill recovered the alleged stolen articles.

From inmates of the boarding house where the couple lived it was learned that Kaiser and his wife carried a joint insurance of $10,000 on their lives, the policies being so written that the death of either would make the other the beneficiary, and that several weeks ago Kaiser and his wife each executed a will, each making the other executor and sole legatee. Kaiser is twenty-four years of age and his wife was thirty-two.

The couple came here from Lancaster on June 1st, having previously lived in Altoona. Mrs. Kaiser's maiden name was Emma P. Rule, her father being George Rule, of Penn village, Lancaster county. The officers this morning found the alleged stolen articles secreted along a fence near the scene of the shooting. A gold watch and a revolver with two empty chambers and a purse containing $5 and supposed to have belonged to Mrs. Kaiser, were found.

Kaiser is at his boarding house in the custody of a detective.

SHOT HER SON AND HUSBAND

MOTHER OBJECTS TO HER SON BEING WHIPPED BY FATHER.

Mrs. Allen Draws a Rifle on J. W. Allen and Kills Her Twelve-Year-Old Boy.

Butte, Mont., October 29.—Mrs. J. W. Allen, of Marysville, this morning shot at her husband with a rifle, but missed him and killed her twelve-year-old son.

She then fired two shots at her husband, one ball fracturing the skull and the other breaking his arm. He will probably die. The couple have not been living happily together.

This morning Allen whipped his son and so enraged Mrs. Allen that she picked up the rifle and began shooting. The woman is under arrest.

MONEY GOES TO 100 PER CENT.

Banks Show an Abundance Where the Price Suits Them.

New York, October 29.—The restriction in accommodation by banks was the chief factor in the money market flurry today. Loans have been called in some instances in preparation for possible demand for funds over Sunday. At the opening 10 per cent was bid for call money in the stock exchange, and although a few loans were made at that figure, there were no offers at any rate, and borrowers became more urgent in their efforts to obtain accommodation, so that shortly after noon money loaned at 50 per cent, and 100 per cent.

SIX DIE IN A MINE SPAIN GROWS GIDDY

Explosion Under Ground at Wilkesbarre Results in Wholesale Death.

MEN STILL UNDER THE GROUND

List of Fatalities May Be Greater Than at Present Known.

TWO RESCUERS KILLED IN THE GOOD WORK

Shaft Is Now on Fire and Gas Prevents Assistance Being Given the Entombed Men.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., October 29.—A heavy explosion of gas occurred in the South Wilkesbarre shaft of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company shortly 1 o'clock this afternoon.

So great was the force of the explosion that it shook the surface for a half mile around.

The mine is now on fire.

It was not in operation and only about a dozen men were at work, six of whom have been hoisted to the surface.

They escaped with slight bruises, but were so excited that nothing could be learned from them more than that an explosion had taken place in a portion of the mine some distance from where they had been at work.

A party of rescuers went down into the mine and found it a hard task to reach the spot where the explosion occurred, owing to the mine being filled with gas. Two of them were overcome and died in a very few minutes.

They were William R. Jones, a fire boss in the employ of the company for the past twenty-five years, and John Joseph, a mine foreman. Both leave families.

Four others who had been at work in a rock tunnel when the explosion occurred, are now known to be dead.

They are: JOSEPH WORTH, fire boss, JAMES HERRING, laborer, WILLIAM LANEY, contractor, THOMAS OWENS, a rock miner.

There are more men in the mine whose fate is uncertain.

NEBRASKA'S HEAVY SNOWSTORM

High Wind Prevails and Drifts May Stop Railroad Trains.

Omaha, Neb., October 29.—A tremendous snowstorm has prevailed over western Nebraska since Wednesday night and is still raging. It is one of the greatest snowstorms in many years.

A high wind prevails, and the snow is drifting high, which will doubtless retard railway traffic. Indications are that the storm will prevail throughout the night.

It is reported that the westbound train on the Burlington is snowbound at Blakeman, and that the snowstorm is still raging.

BAD WINDS IN INDIAN NATION.

People Reported Killed and Valuable Property Destroyed.

St. Louis, Mo., October 29.—A special to The Chronicle from Hartshorne, 1 T. says that a cyclone last night at mine No. 12, near Krebs, destroyed considerable property and several people are reported killed.

At Weoka, Governor Brown's store, the new church and four other buildings were blown down. Several people were hurt at Weoka, but none seriously.

The tornado struck Alderson, a mining town belonging to the Choctaw Coal Company, eight miles distant, destroying the section house and three other buildings. No persons were seriously hurt at the latter place.

TORNADO'S BAD WORK IN TEXAS

Winds Destroy Property and Take Lives in Northern Part of State.

Denton, Tex., October 29.—The tornado that passed over portions of northern Texas and Indian Territory last night did thousands of dollars' worth of damage. In this city houses were unroofed, including the postoffice. Southeast ten miles two persons are reported killed. A number of dwellings near Howe were demolished, but no one seriously injured.

In Finola county, Chickasaw nation, considerable damage was done, farm houses being blown away. Searching parties have gone into the country to the assistance of persons injured.

NOT A TREE WAS LEFT STANDING

Terrific Cyclone Passes Through a Part of Mississippi.

Oxford, Miss., October 29.—A terrific storm passed through the eastern part of Lafayette this afternoon at 4 o'clock, demolishing farm houses and uprooting trees of all sizes. The news has just reached here through Hon. W. V. Sullivan, congressional candidate, and T. J. Harkins.

Sullivan had been speaking at Lula, and was returning to Oxford, where they were driving a double team in a buggy. The wind lifted their buggy, horses and all and carried them some two hundred yards. The buggy was utterly demolished by falling timber. But neither man nor horses were seriously hurt, though the men had part of their clothing blown away.

The storm passed through the edge of the town Delay and demolished several houses. The house of Milton Estridge was blown away, but his wife and several children miraculously escaped with but slight bruises. The extent of the damage cannot be given, but no casualties have as yet been reported. Not a tree was left standing in the cyclone's path. Further details cannot be had tonight.

HAVANA PAPER SAYS UNITED STATES IS TO BLAME FOR CONTINUANCE OF THE WAR.

DAMAGES WILL BE DEMANDED

Rebellion Started and Maintained by Money Collected Here.

STARS AND STRIPES PROTECT THE WORKERS

Newspaper Declares That Indemnity Will Be Asked for and That This Government Must Pay It.

New York, October 29.—The Sun's Havana correspondent, writing under date of October 23d, says:

The following paragraphs are from an article in The Diario de la Marina:

"The recent expedition of the filibustering steamer Danlees compels us to point out again the responsibility incurred by the American nation. Ungrateful Cubans have been conspiring against us in the United States. Funds to start and maintain the rebellion have been collected there, and a junta, which acts in New York as though it were a government, issues decrees and orders and decrees and exercises jurisdiction. All these things are done under the protection of the stars and stripes.

"The American nation should not tolerate such outrages upon a friendly country of which it has no reason to complain, and whose aid it had during its own war of independence.

The American government is responsible for the damages which we are incurring, for the very reasons invoked by the United States in the case of the Alabama. The day will come when the American republic will be held to its responsibility. Spain's attention is for the moment absorbed by the necessity of putting an end to the Cuban insurrection, and extinguishing the sparks which have fallen on the Philippine islands. Luckily, we have the means, the will, and the energy to accomplish both tasks before long. Without provoking a war which we do not wish, but from which we shall not shrink if it must needs come, without adopting any other means than the mere assertion of our rights before a court of arbitrators, which the United States must accept as in the case of the Alabama, an indemnity will be awarded Spain for the damage which she is sustaining through the negligence of the American authorities and the complicity of many American citizens.

"All debts must be paid."

Another case of infanticide, whose identity is shrouded in the deepest mystery, is engaging the attention of the authorities just now.

In this instance Dr. M. C. Martin, who lives at 78 Port street, and who is the proprietor of a drug store on Decatur street, was the unsolicited protector of the unfortunate infant, and made every effort to get rid of it yesterday afternoon.

It was about midnight Wednesday night that a woman came to his door, and, as if disturbed in their slumbers by a knock on the front door, Mrs. Martin answered the summons, and was surprised to see a young man with a baby in his arms. He said that the infant was ill and that he had called to see Dr. Martin for treatment. It proved to be a treatment, however, very different from what the doctor anticipated.

Mrs. Martin re-entered the house, and Dr. Martin was just in the act of opening the front door when he heard the young man shout down the street as fast as his heels could carry him. He had left the baby lying on the front porch coiled up in an elegant shawl. It was crying, and was chilled to the bone from exposure in the night air.

Dr. Martin carried his new protegee into the house and proceeded to make an examination. The baby was dressed as if he had come to stay, and judging from his apparel, he is evidently of a good family. The linen was of the very finest, and the dress followed had made his first visit in ultra swell style.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin, after they had recovered from the surprise, naturally at once sought to get rid of the baby, but were powerless to take any other course. They therefore relied upon the night, but were once more ruthlessly disturbed in a very unexpected manner.

Papa Came Back Again.

It was about 2 o'clock in the morning when Dr. Martin, who was awake, noticed a peculiar noise at the window. On looking around he saw the shutters open and out on the front porch.

As soon as the mysterious stranger caught sight of the physician he ran out of the gate and down the street toward Edgewood avenue. The doctor, believing the fugitive to be the same who had left the baby, gave pursuit. For two blocks the chase was exciting. The doctor is a good runner, and for a short distance was about to capture the fleeing man, but youth finally outdied age, and the young fellow disappeared up Edgewood avenue, and has not been seen since.

His identity is a mystery. It is believed he returned the last time to see if the baby had been taken in. He was visibly dressed and wore a large diamond shirt stud. He was not more than twenty-one years of age.

Dr. Martin kept the infant until yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, when he entered a hack with baby and drove to the station house. The facts were laid before Chief Connolly, and a home was found for the unfortunate kid in the Home of the Friendless, where he was cozily domiciled last night.

The Dog Scared Him Off.

It has been discovered that the young man attempted to leave the baby at another residence at the corner of Bell and Gilmer streets, but was afraid to enter the lot on account of a vicious dog.

Mr. J. C. Baister, who lives at that place, states he was aroused a little before midnight by the barking of his dog. He looked out of the window and saw the figure of a man walking away holding a bundle in his arms. Mr. Baister thought no more of the incident and went to sleep, blissfully ignorant of how near he came to being the protector of the little chubby, blue-eyed baby boy.

Chief Connolly is investigating the case fully, and will bring the guilty parties to justice if they can be located. The authorities have a good description of the young man who is probably the father of the baby, and it may be possible he will be located today. That infant has a sensational history behind it, if it could only be discovered.

C. Jones, took place yesterday. The case will not be tried until the 13th inst.

RED TAPE TROUBLE.—Yesterday the collector of customs' office in the United States building was transformed into a tobacco wrapping shop temporarily, as the fragments of a small Havana weed caused many to wonder who dropped into Mr. Stocker's office.

A consignment of Havana cigarettes had been sent to an Atlanta tobacco store, which had just opened a new tobacco store on North Pryor street, but they came in packages of four cigarettes to the bundle.

The law requires that each cigarette shall be in packages of 10, 20, 50 or 100 cigarettes. It was therefore necessary for the tobaccoists to take each separate package and add six cigarettes to it and rewrap them. The consignment was a large one and caused lots of trouble, but there was no getting around it.

THEY WANT SALARY TURK WORRIES THEM

Members of Several City Commissions Want Pay for Work.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS IT

Amendment of City Charter May Be Asked for by Council.

ALSO TO EXTEND CITY POLICE TERRITORY

Mr. C. A. Collier's Suggestion That Taxes Be Paid Quarterly Is Approved by Committee.

The ordinance committee of the council has agreed upon several important proposed amendments to the city charter. Messrs. Colvin, May, Maddox, Miller and Mayson were present at the meeting.

The committee will recommend that the council request the general assembly to amend the charter so that the general council may pay a salary to the president and secretary of the several boards of commissioners of the city government.

This proposition is certain to bring about a fight. Some time ago Senator Venable had passed a bill denying to the city the right to pay members of the several boards, and since the adoption of the amendment there has been considerable dissatisfaction among the boards.

The ordinance committee will recommend that the presidents of boards receive $200 per annum and secretaries $100.

The heads affected by the action of the committee are the water board, the board of health, the board of police commissioners and the board of education.

It is said that Dr. J. F. Alexander, president of the board of health, recently agitated the matter, stating that he would decline to serve without compensation, the time being being valuable to him.

Other members of the several boards favor the salary amendment.

The ordinance committee will recommend that all of the ground between the city limits and the exposition grounds be included in the territory subject to police surveillance and patrol. The committee will ask the council to request the legislature to amend the charter so that the city may have the right to extend its police territory.

The committee reports favorably on an ordinance seeking to amend the charter so as to provide for the collection of city taxes quarterly. The suggestion was made by Mayor-elect Collier several days ago. He thinks that the change will be a benefit to the city government and the people.

MISSISSIPPI NEGROES DUPED.

Ex-Slave Pension Association Found by Subscribers a Myth.

Jackson, Miss., October 29.—A few smart Mississippi negroes have organized some time since what they called an "ex-slave pension association" and are doing a land office business, judging from the complaints.

Today forty or fifty negroes from Simpson county came to Jackson to attend a "state convention" of the ex-slaves, but found no meeting and no one to tell them where they would get the pension money they expected. They joined the numerous clubs organized in their county, paying a small initiation fee of 5 cents monthly dues, each club being assessed 15 cents for the state association with the understanding that as soon as they established the fact that they were ex-slaves they would receive a pension of $10 to $15 per month hereafter. They now say they have been duped and say they will prosecute the leaders before the federal court.

They had been told that Wash Newman, Jackson, was president and are after his scalp. A negro named Gabe Easterling was their local organizer and is said to have taken considerable money out of his dupes.

INSTRUCTIONS ARE ASKED

Appeal for Help Was Equivalent to a Levy To Buy Arms.

Massacres in the Provinces Cannot Be Prevented by Guardships if They Can in Constantinople.

London, October 29.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Daily News telegraphs that the situation in that city is causing the gravest anxiety in diplomatic circles, which are now discussing the question of the deposition of the sultan.

The statement of the porte that no forced levy has been made to procure money with which to buy arms, and that the trade, which was construed to be an order for such a levy, was merely an appeal to Turkish subjects to voluntarily contribute to a fund that was found necessary to raise for the armament and equipment of the imperial troops is recognized as a thinly veiled invitation to Mussulmans to prepare to attack Christians.

This cannot fail to bring about massacres in the provinces, even if the vigilance of the guardships is able to prevent the killing of Christians in Constantinople.

The correspondent adds that after a meeting held on Monday the diplomats telegraphed to their respective governments, asking for instructions with a view to imminent happenings.

The Sheikh-ul-Islam, the head of the Mohammedan faith, through whom alone can the Sultan be legally deposed, remains at the Yildiz Kiosk, the sultan's residence, nominally as a guest of his majesty, but really as a prisoner.

ELECTION RETURNS COME SLOW

Hungarian Chamber of Deputies Will Be Largely Liberal.

Vienna, October 29.—Out of 414 districts in which elections for seats in the Hungarian chamber of deputies have been taken this week, the results in 230 have been received. In 229 of these the liberal candidates were elected, in sixteen the candidates of the Catholic party were successful, and in twenty-five the nationals were victorious.

The returns also show the election of thirty-nine opponents of the present proposals for the Ausgleich, or financial settlement with Austria and nine independents, leaving eleven scattering. Passionate interest is being taken in the contests throughout the kingdom and election rows are reported everywhere.

To keep order it has been necessary to augment the strength of the various garrisons by the addition of 50,000 Austrian troops.

BANK DIRECTORS WILL BE SUE

EMPEROR WILLIAM WRITES.

Bismarck's Alleged Private Treaty Does Not Suit Some.

Buda-Pesth, October 29.—The Pesther Lloyd is authority for the statement that Emperor William has written a letter to the emperor of Austria relative to the Bismarck-Nachrichten's recent article, which was inspired by Prince Bismarck, showing that for the six years from 1884 to 1890, a secret alliance existed between Germany and Russia, to the prejudice of Austria, one of the contracting nations of the triple alliance, of which Germany and Italy were the others.

The proposition for the formation of the triple alliance was made in 1882 and adopted in 1883, but it was not until March, 1887, that the alliance was formally signed. According to The Nachrichten's revelations, the secret Russo-German treaty provided that in certain contingencies Austria would not have the benefit of German support as was provided by the triple alliance, a statement that has caused widespread comment on the Bismarckian methods in Austro-Hungarian and other political circles.

The fifteenth annual sports meeting of the Sydney bicycle club was held at the Sydney cricket grounds on September 25th, over 19,000 spectators being present. W. L. Martin retained his strength until the last and won by more than half a lap, which in the early stages of the race he had to secure to bring him on level terms with McDonnell. The time was one hour, twenty minutes, twenty-five and three-quarters seconds.

The Italian crack cyclist, Stephen Bolde, arrived at Sydney from Milan on September 23d, and has entered the great "Austral" event. The official vote of the state in the recent election resulted as above. The figures were compiled by the general assembly in joint session yesterday. They make an interesting exhibit and the exact majorities of the democratic candidates over the populists are now known for the first time.

The returns were opened by the two bodies in joint session, and the result declared by President Berner, of the senate, a few minutes after 4 o'clock. It required more than three hours of the day to consolidate the figures and reach the result stated.

It will be seen that Governor Atkinson falls behind his ticket more than 35,000 votes.

Hon. Joseph M. Terrell, candidate for attorney general, receives the largest majority of any of the candidates for statehouse offices. His majority over Hon. Donald Clark, populist, is 57,511. A striking fact concerning Mr. Terrell's majority is that it was due rather to the small vote received by his opponent, which was less than that received by any of the other populist candidates.

Hon. William A. Wright receives the second largest majority, defeating his opponent, Hon. J. S. Bell, by 56,854 votes.

Governor Atkinson's majority over Hon. Seaborn Wright is 34,995.

Mr. Terrell received 25,516 more votes than Governor Atkinson.

Mr. Candler received 20,736 more votes than Governor Atkinson.

The total vote cast for governor was 206,659.

The general assembly devoted yesterday morning to the returns of the state election and consolidating the figures. The two bodies, the house and senate, met in joint session at 11 o'clock and after working on the returns until 1 o'clock adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock.

At the latter hour the joint session was resumed and shortly after 4 o'clock the work of consolidating the returns of the election had been completed. President Berner, of the senate, presided over the joint session, and he formally declared the several democratic candidates elected.

The afternoon session of the house after the adjournment of the joint session was a short one. Several resolutions were introduced and reports were received.

The house elected Rev. Casper Wright, of Eatonton, chaplain. He was nominated for the place by the special committee appointed by the speaker Wednesday.

The house adopted a joint resolution providing for an adjournment of the general assembly from Saturday until Thursday next, so that the members may go to their homes during the national election.

The populists of the house made their move by opposing the resolution. It was motioned by Mr. Watkins, of Gilmer, that J. C. Allen and Hon. J. P. Perry be given the freedom of the floor of the house during their stay in the city.

The house adopted an amendment to the joint resolution providing for adjournment that the election of judges and solicitors be deferred from Monday until Thursday.

The afternoon house session. Then President Berner moved for order and announced the result of the work of the tellers there was suppressed excitement in the hall. The members had spent the day in the hall without an opportunity to talk or do anything except to listen to the pleadings of the candidates and the legislators were anxious to get away from the Capitol.

When President Berner announced the move for governor and secretary of state there was slight applause. Upon declaring the result the joint session was quickly dissolved and the senate filed out.

Hon. J. I. Boynton, of Calhoun county, obtained the floor and sent to the clerk's desk the resolution providing for adjournment. He stated that there was no constitutional objection to the adjournment as proposed and that it could be done legally.

Mr. Little, of Muscogee, said that he desired to offer an amendment to the resolution providing that the election of judges and solicitors be held on Thursday next, the law giving the right to the assembly to change the time of the election from the first Monday after the assembling of the legislature. The amendment was accepted by Mr. Boynton and the joint resolution was then adopted by a vote of 85 to 16.

Mr. Boyd, of McDuffie county, a populist, demanded the yeas and nays, but less than one-fifth of the members of the house sustained his demand and the roll was not called. It was the first time the populists showed their hands in the house and they met defeat, although the question was not a strictly party one by any means.

Mr. Boynton's resolution was transmitted to the senate, but that body adjourned before the messenger reached it. The joint resolution reads as follows:

The Joint Resolution.

Resolved—By Mr. J. I. Boynton, of Calhoun county, that the national elections are to be held on Tuesday next, November 3d, and many members of both houses are desirous of returning to their homes to vote in said election; be it therefore Resolved, by the house, the senate concurring, that the general assembly take a recess for four days (to-wit: the 2d, 3d and 4th of November, and that it shall reconvene at 10 o'clock a. m. on Thursday, November 5th.

GOULD ROADS GOSSIP.

There is a Chance That the Traffic Department May Be Reorganized.

If Traffic Manager Parker accepts the position to which he was unanimously elected on the Western Freight Association's board a reorganization of the traffic department of the Gould lines may follow. It is rumored that the entire traffic department of the Gould system, the Missouri Pacific, the Iron Mountain, the Texas Pacific and the International and Great Northern will shortly be reorganized and that a third vice president will be elected for all these companies, having traffic jurisdiction over all four lines. To place one man in authority over the entire system for the regulation of the traffic affairs of the four lines would, it is thought, put an end to the bickerings and family troubles brought about by three or four gateway conflicting interests within the territory of the Gould lines. A house cannot be successfully divided against itself, but the Gould St. Louis and Texas lines have presented the spectacle of more than one serious race disturbance of late years. Nothing definite, however, will be known of the Gould plans until the directors meet in New York.

In connection with this rumor it was stated that the position had been tendered to Vice President Stubbs, of the Southern Pacific more than once, but that he had declined it. Mr. Stubbs has entire charge of the Southern Pacific's traffic, and Mr. Huntington would not part with him.

ESCAPED CONVICT SURRENDERS.

Man Walks Into Savannah Jail and Says He Is Wanted in Iowa.

Savannah, Ga., October 29.—(Special)—A man giving his name as McGuire, and then afterwards stating that his name was Howard, walked into the police barracks and gave himself up today, saying he was wanted as an escaped convict at Dubuque, Ia., and that there was $250 reward for him. He says he escaped a year ago, and that he is tired of wandering around without food or anywhere to sleep. He wants to be sent back and thinks now he can prove he

LABOR INDORSES LON

Colonel Livingston Was Given a Hearty Reception Last Night.

SAYS SUCCESS IS ASSURED

Labor Organizations Promise To Vote Solidly for His Return to Congress for Another Term.

The labor men of the city, representing every labor organization and all of the machine shops and manufacturing, held a rousing meeting last night at their headquarters in the Imperial theater.

Colonel Livingston was present upon the invitation of the Livingston Club, and he was asked to state his position in regard to the railroad arbitration bill and several other matters that are of interest to the labor men.

Reports from all the ward committees were read and the canvass of the city showed that Colonel Livingston will receive a handsome majority next Tuesday over his opponent, Captain Hendrix.

The informal talk given the meeting by Colonel Livingston created intense enthusiasm and he was given an ovation before the meeting adjourned. Colonel Livingston asked that the labor men make it a special duty to vote Tuesday, stating that while he was assured of success beyond any doubt, he desired as large a majority as possible, in order that he could better accomplish what he had undertaken in Washington if he could carry a large majority with him to congress.

"Among those things which I desire to accomplish is this," said Colonel Livingston. "I want to see Atlanta given a $100,000 government building, and I can better secure this appropriation if I am elected by a large majority than I could if my majority was small. You understand the situation. A large majority gives the movement the indorsement of all the people and the chances are more favorable in the future of success on this line than they would be if I went back to congress just by a scratch."

The position on the railroad bill taken by Colonel Livingston met with the hearty approval of those present last night and he was assured of a solid vote from the labor organizations next Tuesday.

Monday Night's Rally.

Monday night the labor men will close the national campaign with an enthusiastic rally which will be held in the basement of the county courthouse.

Colonel Livingston has accepted an invitation to speak on this occasion.

The morning a committee composed of members of the Livingston Club will call upon Hon. Robert L. Berner, president of the senate, and Colonel Evans, and ask that they address the rally.

"The labor vote of Atlanta and Fulton county," said Secretary Bridwell last night, "will be cast solidly for Colonel Livingston. He has demonstrated to us that he has the capacity to do what he wants to in Washington, and he has been congressman long enough to become thoroughly acquainted with the schemes and political situations at the national capital."

"Colonel Livingston has served his apprenticeship," said he, "and is the choice of the labor organizations and labor men generally in the city. We will give him a handsome majority Tuesday and we will carry every ward and precinct."

WANTED IN CHATTANOOGA.—Theodore Humphries and Walter Wilson, young negro boys, who are wanted badly in Chattanooga on the charge of burglary, were arrested in this city last night by Officers Doyl and Whittier and locked in the station house. Officer Bennett, from the Mountain City, will carry the prisoners back this morning. Humphries is said to be a member of a gang of notorious burglars who have stolen hundreds of dollars' worth of goods in Chattanooga.

CARRIED TO CANTON

Remains of George R. Brown Removed To His Home.

FRIENDS ACCOMPANY BODY
Funeral Will Occur at Canton at Noon Today.

MANY ATLANTANS WILL ATTEND OBSEQUES

Funeral Will Be One of the Largest Ever Seen in North Georgia.

The remains of Hon. George R. Brown were carried to Canton yesterday at 8 o'clock over the Western and Atlantic railroad. Quite a number of friends of Mr. Brown and friends of the family went up on the train, and a larger number will go up this morning to attend the funeral. The father and wife of the deceased and his two brothers, Joseph E. and John W. L. Brown, were among those who accompanied the remains to Canton. The remains were kept at the Kimball during the night and were watched over by many friends of the dead man.

The funeral will occur at Canton at noon today. Among those who will go up from Atlanta are Hon. A. E. Clay, Colonel W. C. Glenn and Thomas Hutcheson. Many other political friends of Mr. Brown will go up.

The following special from Canton tells of the arrival of the remains at that place and of the funeral arrangements:

"Canton, Ga., October 29.—(Special.)—The announcement of the death of Colonel George R. Brown this morning was a shock the like of which our people never before have experienced. When he left Atlanta Monday afternoon it was rumored by all that he seemed to be in better health, brighter and more active than usual. No wonder, then, that the announcement of his death should be such a surprise to his many friends here and elsewhere, and yet, by reason of there being no night telegraphic communication with Atlanta, the sad news was not known here for more than twelve hours after his death, although the worst was feared. The announcement rapidly spread and many from the country joined their town friends this morning to meet the corpse and carry it to Colonel Brown's beautiful new house one mile north of town.

Mayor Perry arranged an escort for the remains, consisting of Bank Directors John B. Richards, W. A. Teasly, T. M. Brady and Ben F. Perry, Attorneys G. J. Teasly, P. D. Perry and J. D. Perry, and Court Officials A. C. Conn, ordinary, W. N. Wilson, clerk, and J. P. Spears, sheriff. The business houses were closed and the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian church bells were tolled until the remains reached the house.

"Tomorrow morning the remains will be interred in the town cemetery at this place in a spot of earth selected by himself for his interment only a few weeks ago. The arrangements for the service are as follows:

"Family and friends leave the house at 10 o'clock, arriving at the church at 11:30 o'clock. At the top of the hill near W. T. Colburn's blacksmith shop the Masonic fraternal will pass in line and the body of the corpse to the church, and at the church the Masons will open ranks, when the corpse and the family and relatives of the deceased will pass in down the left aisle, taking the front seats on the right side of the middle tier of seats, the casket being placed immediately in front of the pulpit. The casket will be occupied by the family and relatives of the deceased on the right side of the casket, and the family and relatives of the deceased on the left side of the casket.

"The pallbearers selected are Mr. G. J. Teasly, Mr. T. M. Brady, Mr. C. W. Glenn, Mr. W. A. Teasly, Mr. W. C. Glenn, Mr. E. L. Brown and Mr. W. C. Glenn. The service will be conducted by Rev. Peter A. Heard, pastor of Morrisville Methodist church, of Georgia, assisted by Rev. A. R. Vanecko, pastor of the Baptist church at this place. The sermon will be opened by singing, after which the regular burial service of the Methodist church will be used.

brothers of the deceased, and Mrs. George R. Brown, of Macon.

"No death has ever occurred in Canton that so touched our people as the death of Colonel Brown. He was one of Georgia's most gifted sons and beloved and honored by the people of this section. He was ever ready to assist in any enterprise furthering the material interests of his section and people, a lawyer without a peer, a gentleman, a man of high character, a young man of high character, promising future. Georgia loses a man who will be missed in all spheres of usefulness to his state and people."

STONE CUTTERS STILL OUT.

But Work on the Austell Building Is Going On.

Work on the Austell building has been recommenced and is going steadily on. The stone cutters who struck are still out of work and the members of the union are drawing their pay. The union men demanded that they be paid uniform wages of $2.50 a day instead of the $2.00 a day they were getting. The work was not delayed, however, and now there is no chance that the men formerly employed at the work. The non-union men came from Stone Mountain and are now filling the places of the union men. There was some talk of the union men going to work to persuade the others to go to work but their efforts failed and the going on now as if nothing had happened.

HILL WOULD NOT RUN.

He Had Pledged His Support To Mr. Charles Crisp.

Mr. J. T. Hill, the prominent young lawyer from Cordele, has been prominently put forward by his friends in the second district to succeed Hon. Charles F. Crisp in Congress. He has been in Atlanta since Monday and since here he has been urged by friends to enter the race. Yesterday he received a telegram from Hawkinsville urging him to make the race. "I am flattered by the honor," said Mr. Hill yesterday, "but I, of course, will not enter the race. I have already pledged my support to Mr. Charles Crisp. I appreciate the honor done me."

A telegram from Marietta says that a big mass meeting was held yesterday by the citizens of Macon county and the candidacy of young Mr. Crisp was strongly supported. It is not yet known what opposition he will have for the place.

SUES THE ROAD FOR DAMAGES.

Passenger Brings Action Against the Atlanta Consolidated.

A damage suit was filed yesterday against the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway company by Attorney Edmund Peelen. The suit alleges that the company's cars have been seriously and permanently injured several weeks ago on account of the negligence of the company's drivers. The allegations made in the petition show that Peelen attempted to board a Marietta street car on August 10th, when the car was suddenly started forward and he was dragged several feet on the ground.

Peelen says he signaled the motorman to stop the car, which he did. As he attempted to get on the front platform Peelen says the motorman turned the car around and the car jerked forward. He claims he was caught beneath the step of the car and was dragged about thirty feet before the car was stopped. He sues for $2,500 and the case is directed to the city court.

THE STATE'S INSANE

Dr. Powell Tells What the Asylum Did Last Year.

REPORT BEFORE LEGISLATURE
Trustees Ask for a Large Appropriation for Running Expenses.

ARE HIGHLY PLEASED WITH THE REPORT

Asylum Will Be Able To Do Good Work This Year if Appropriations Are Granted.

Dr. T. O. Powell, the superintendent of the Georgia lunatic asylum, was in the city yesterday. During the day his annual report with that of the trustees of the Georgia lunatic asylum was circulated in the house of representatives.

The report was for the year beginning September 1, 1895, to September 1, 1896, and is a neat volume and gives the members of the legislature a full statement of the affairs of the asylum for the year. It gives in detail all the money expended during the year and makes a fine showing for the asylum.

On September 1, 1895, as shown by the report, there were in the asylum 1,532 inmates. Of these 1,243 were white, and 289 colored. During the year just past 322 whites and 292 colored inmates were received into the asylum. During the year there were discharged, removed, died and elapsed 362 patients, leaving on hand September 1, 1896, 2,002 patients, of which 1,373 are white and 629 colored.

The expenses of the asylum, owing to the increased number of patients, were greater than last year. During the year the institution received $234,648.98, of which $113,136.90 was a balance left on hand from the year previous.

During the year just passed the amount of money expended by the asylum was $256,987.78, leaving on hand a balance of $7,781.10, which is some smaller than the balance of the year previous.

It is estimated by Superintendent Powell that the cost for the maintenance of the asylum for the year 1897 will be $260,000, and for the year 1898 $270,000. This appropriation is asked for and the trustees show that this will allow each patient only 35 cents per diem.

On the question of appropriations the trustees say: "We endorse these estimates and respectfully request appropriations to be made for the next two years. The necessity is put upon the state by the increase of its insane population. Year by year the number increases and there is no escape from the sacred duty of providing for this helpless portion of our people. Superintendent Powell and Steward Lamar are thoroughly qualified to form an intelligent opinion on this question and feel satisfied that it will be necessary for us to maintain 2,200 inmates in 1897 and 2,300 in 1898."

The request for the special appropriation for duplicate and enlarged water pipes from the pumping station to the water tower asked for in the last annual report is renewed. The amount of this special appropriation is $4,700.

Mention is made in the report of the excellent work of the year in increasing the facilities for extending the asylum. The trustees say that if a break should occur in one of the pipes at present it would be impossible to supply the institution with water.

They say that there are many inmates of the asylum whose insanity gives them a desire to set fire to the place. They have to be continually watched, and on account of this danger it is necessary that the facilities for extinguishing a conflagration should be the very best.

Want the Law Changed.

At present the laws of the state will not allow the trustees of the asylum to receive into the institution insane citizens of other states. The trustees say that the law on this matter be changed. Their request is as follows:

"The law should be amended so as to allow the trustees to receive temporarily into our asylum insane citizens of other states found within our borders. In some few instances citizens of other states have been received into our asylum, and we are sure that the law should be so amended as to allow their commitment to our institution temporarily, or, if desired, until they can be removed to their homes. We have no fund available for this purpose, and we therefore ask that the law be so amended as to allow their commitment to our institution temporarily, or, if desired, until they can be removed to their homes. We have no fund available for this purpose, and we therefore ask that the law be so amended as to allow their commitment to our institution temporarily, or, if desired, until they can be removed to their homes."

"The report of our worthy and efficient superintendent will give you in detail much information as to the needs of the asylum, and we ask for it a careful study."

The report is signed by George A. Cabaniss, president board of directors, and Eugene Foster, secretary of the board.

The trustees report gives the principal interesting and important matters in the superintendent's report and is only a kind of summary of it. The superintendent's and the steward's reports give in detail all the money expended during the year and make a full account of each inmate. The report reflects great credit on the officers in charge and shows that the state asylum is a great institution. The superintendent asked for will most likely be obtained.

1892, and so much of the new code as may be completed. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Mosley Gets in a Bill.

Mr. Mosley, of Cobb, was the first member of the house to introduce a bill. He asked for unanimous consent to offer a bill and there was no objection.

The bill of Mr. Mosley was read by the clerk. It is a bill to change the time of the meeting of the house of representatives from the first Saturday in January to the last Saturday in December preceding. The bill was referred to the Joint Committee on the Rules and Administration of the House.

The report of Special Commissioner R. F. Wright of his investigation of the condition of the misdemeanor convicts, was read to the house. The report was given in full in yesterday's Constitution.

First Joint Session Convened.

The first session of the house and senate to open the returns of the state election and declare the result was called to order at 11:45 o'clock by Hon. Robert L. Berner, speaker of the house. He was escorted to the speaker's desk by Hon. William Clifton, secretary of the senate.

The members of the senate filed in the hall by twos and were provided with seats about the hall. The hall was filled by the members of both houses and the visitors. The whole while the members of the house and senate were being opened and recorded there was much confusion in the hall.

On motion of Mr. Boynton, of Calhoun county, a committee of the members of the house and two of the senate was appointed to act as tellers. Mr. Berner, president of the joint session, announced the appointment of Messrs. Hopkins and Carter and Representatives Felder, West and Davidson as the tellers.

They Count the Votes.

The tellers and clerks then opened a big basket containing the election returns and began the monotonous work of reading the returns and consolidating them. The work was tedious and uninteresting, and the members of both houses passed the time talking and in the committee rooms, leaving the hall before the count had progressed very far.

The opening and consolidation of the returns progressed slowly from 11 o'clock to 1 o'clock, without incident or interruption. The tellers divided time in counting the figures and examining the returns, the clerks keeping a tabulated sheet of the figures.

At 1 o'clock Senator Hopkins moved that the joint session of the senate and house be dissolved until 3 o'clock and the senate adjourn. The motion was carried, putting the question. The count had been concluded and it was seen that the work would keep the legislators away from dinner.

Dr. Taylor Is Sworn In.

Upon the dissolution of the joint session Speaker Jenkins called the house to order and upon motion of Mr. McLaughlin, of Meriwether county, his honor, Dr. W. Taylor, was sworn in as a member of the house, having been absent Wednesday when the members were sworn in. The oath was administered by Judge W. M. Henry, of the Rome circuit.

The house then adjourned until 3 o'clock.

READY FOR VOTING

City and County Polling Places Were Announced Yesterday.

ORDINARY NAMES MANAGERS
One Hundred and Fourteen Men Have Been Appointed to Conduct It.

RULES AND REGULATIONS ARE BEING PRINTED

Registration Lists Show 12,500 Voters Are Qualified To Cast Their Ballots Next Tuesday.

Ordinary Calhoun yesterday completed the task of making the detailed arrangements for Tuesday's election and everything is now in readiness for the great battle of ballots.

The list of managers and clerks was completed yesterday at noon and the rules and regulations governing the conduct of the election are now in the hands of the printer. They will be delivered this morning and tomorrow the ordinary will distribute them among the managers of the various precincts.

The voting places to be used in Tuesday's election are the same as those which were announced in the last state and county election. The same places were selected for the reason that they had been fully advertised before and were easy of access by voters.

The management of the election will combine the services of 114 men. There will be fifty-seven managers and an equal number of clerks. Each precinct will be provided with three managers and three clerks. The hours for opening and closing the polls will be the same as heretofore.

"Everything is in readiness," said Ordinary Calhoun yesterday, "and the arrangements are now complete as far as my office is concerned. The tally sheets have been prepared and the rules governing the conduct of the election are being printed this afternoon. I will receive a proof sheet tomorrow and as soon as they are corrected the printer will hurry them out, so they can be given the managers by Monday morning at the latest."

The tally sheets which were completed yesterday are huge affairs and embrace square feet of white paper, neatly ruled, with the names of the various candidates and electors written opposite the precincts.

The rules which are now being printed will be posted at all of the voting places and will contain all the information necessary for the registration lists have been revised and tabulated and everything is ready for Tuesday. The managers and clerks have been notified and nearly all of them have given notice of their acceptance.

Registration Is Heavy.

The registration lists on file in the office of Tax Collector Stewart show an increase of about four hundred voters since the last election.

"I have not yet footed up the totals," said Mr. Stewart, "but I can come very close to the number that have registered. The registration lists will be very close to 12,500. These figures include about 1,500 colored voters. The lists are now about ready to be copied and will be distributed at the various polling places Tuesday."

The negro vote has not been fully registered. There should be at least five thousand negro voters in the county, but less than half of the voters will ever register, as they seem to regard the registration books with more or less suspicion. They believe they will escape taxes and jury work by failing to register, and it is for this reason probably that so few place names appear in the registration books and take the oath of a voter."

Several called yesterday afternoon to register and there will probably be a rush to the polls three days preceding the election on Tuesday.

Ordinary Calhoun yesterday announced the following managers and clerks who are to conduct the election Tuesday in Fulton county:

BIG JOLLIFICATION TO COME

A FLURRY IN MONEY

Rate for Call Loans Advanced to 100 Per Cent, Closing at 80.

STOCKS DECLINED SHARPLY

In Cotton the News Was All Bullish, and Prices Were Easily Advanced—Wheat Higher.

New York, October 29.—The feature of the day in financial circles today was an advance in call loans on the stock exchange to 100 per cent. The advance was attributed to the preparations making for the payment of interest and dividends due November 1st, the shifting of loans incidental to this process and some hoarding by the more timid over election day. The stringency of the loan market compelled brokers to collect margins. In a number of instances holders were imposed or unable to respond and their stock was thrown on the market. Considering the exorbitant rates demanded for call loans, the foreign selling and the evening up of accounts by operators who desire to go over the election without contracts on their books, the loss in prices, except in rare instances, was unimportant. The disturbance in the money market, it might be added, affected only a limited number of transactions. The market excitement in stock circles. The loss in prices at one time ranged from 1/2 to 3 per cent. The principal declines are annexed: Sugar fell 1/2, Burlington 1/2, St. Paul 1/2, St. Paul preferred 1/2, Rock Island 2/4, Delaware and Hudson 1/4, General Electric 1/4, Laclede Glass 3/4, Louisville and Nashville 1/4, Manhattan 1/4, Kansas and Nebraska preferred 2/4, New York Central 1/4, Reading 1/4, Pullman 2/4, Tennessee Coal & Leather preferred 1/4 and Western Union 1/4. In the afternoon trading Chicago Gas jumped from 67 1/2 to 69 1/2, on advice from Chicago that an order had been entered by Judge Gibbons modifying the injunction restraining the distribution of dividends. This was immediately construed as meaning that the surplus of the company will be distributed to stockholders at once. A rise in Chicago Gas and an unfounded rumor that the clearing house intended issuing certificates to relieve the stringency in the money market had a good effect for a time, but the market close, when favor rates were obtained for call loans, the recovery of 1/4 per cent was partially lost and speculation closed barely steady in tone. As compared with yesterday's finish, the leading issues show losses of 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. Chicago Gas was an exception, and gained 3/4 per cent. Total sales were 20,323 shares, including 41,800 Sugar, 25,100 St. Paul, 20,800 Burlington and Quincy, 12,000 Reading and 12,500 Chicago Gas. Bonds were heavy in sympathy with the decline in the stock market. Sales totaled up $1,083,000. Treasury balances, Cash, $122,287,564; currency, $4,561,290. Money on call was very active at 100 per cent; last loan at 80, closing offered at 80 per cent; prime mercantile paper 7/8 to 100 per cent. Bar silver 64 1/2. Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.81 1/2 for 60 days and $4.84 1/2 for 90 days; demand, posted rates, $4.84 1/2; commercial bills, $4.84 1/2 for 60 days. Government bonds lower. State bonds dull. Railroad bonds weak. Silver at the board was steady. London, October 29.—Bar silver 29 1/2; consols 10 1/2 for money and 10 1/2 for the account. Paris, October 29, 2 1/2 p. m.—Three per cent rentes 101 francs 72 centimes for the account. Following are the closing bids:

but the money pressure was most pronounced in the afternoon, when prices touched their lowest points. The railway list lost over 1 per cent and the industrial suffered likewise. Chicago Gas was an exception, increasing on the eve of the announcement that the distribution of the payment of dividends had been removed, but it later fell off with the rest of the speculation. The market closed weak at practically lowest points.

From a Social Standpoint

WOMAN'S CLUBS FINISH WORK AND ADJOURN.

Last Day's Session Yesterday an Important One—Mrs. W. B. Lowe Elected President of the State Federation.

The convention being held by the women's organizations of Georgia for the purpose of forming a state federation closed its sessions yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The convention has been a notable one in many respects. The perfect harmony that prevailed, the absence of anything like an antagonistic spirit, and the amiable and friendly relations on all sides, was a great proof that women can have their clubs, their conventions and organizations and not only avoid disagreeable squabbles and arguments, but pose as model club members, very tenacious of the rules of parliamentary law and justice toward one another. Mrs. John King, who presided as the chairman of the convention, has met with universal praise for the executive ability she displayed and the ease and grace with which she managed the duties of her office. There were many times when she was placed in trying positions where important questions were thrust upon her for immediate decision, but in every instance she was equal to the occasion, and left the chair possessing as her friends and admirers every woman in the convention.

At the opening of the meeting yesterday morning Mrs. Lowe read telegrams and greetings from various women's organizations in the country. She presided as the Tennessee federation. On motion of Mrs. Lowe a similar compliment was paid the women of New Jersey, now in convention, and greetings were telegraphed from the Georgia federation.

Mrs. Henrotin appearing at that time was warmly greeted and presented by the Georgia federation with a bouquet of superb American Beauty roses. She received the compliment in her usually graceful manner, at the same time expressing her great satisfaction and pleasure at every detail and movement of the convention.

Mrs. A. S. Cochran, of Barnesville, the delegate from the Shakespearean Club of that place, read a report full of interest. She was one of the most popular women of the convention, and it may be added one of the very prettiest and most accomplished.

Mrs. Eulalia Mosely read the report of the woman's club of Rome, that in its various sessions has accomplished a wonderful amount of work, especially in the department of philanthropy. Mrs. Eugene Heard, as president for the Georgia Sorosis, and delegate from the Village Improvement Club of that place, read two interesting and charming reports. Both she and Mrs. Harper, the first president of Sorosis, have been among the most popular and charming women of the convention. Mrs. Boykin Robinson, the delegate from the woman's club of Social Circle, and Mrs. W. B. Lowe, of the Atlanta Woman's Club, followed her report. It was brief but directed and pointed, and she was followed by Miss Julia Fitch, of Milledgeville. Miss Fitch had not been heard in the convention before, and the impression she made in her eloquent address will hardly be forgotten by any woman who heard it. She represented a club of women organized in Milledgeville in the interest of the industrial school, and her appeal for the young girls of the state needing the school was met by that institution was strong. At the conclusion of the three minutes allowed each speaker she retired, but by unanimous request of the convention she was recalled by the chairman, who said "Miss Fitch had touched the keynote of the very best motives that could inspire the progress of a woman's club." She concluded her address by a last appeal for the young girls of the state standing in need of the advantages of the industrial school, and in this instance no woman made a deeper impression.

Miss Woodberry for the Press. When Miss Rosa Woodberry arose to read the report of the Georgia Woman's Press Club she was received with enthusiastic applause. Her popularity was assured from the moment of her appearance in the convention. Mrs. Henrotin, in her address of yesterday, especially referred to Miss Woodberry, who, notwithstanding her youth, possesses all the capacity of the experienced club woman, and is destined to be a bright and lovely nature, to become one of Georgia's most distinguished women. In her report she referred to the Georgia Woman's Press Club as organized in Columbus by Mrs. Bynum, the first and able president. Subsequent meetings at Atlanta, Indian Springs, Lookout and Elberton proved each year an increase of membership and encouraging evidences of the good accomplished by the club.

The club at present includes in its membership many of the prominent press women of Georgia, those active in journalism, editorial work, and many women of unusual literary ability. The Georgia Woman's Press Club was the first woman's club of Georgia to enter the national federation, and was the first club of the south to join the International Press League. Miss Woodberry referred to the gratifying fact that the press club had determined to reconsider their former action (made under misapprehension) to withdraw from the national federation; that they were not only in it, but in it to stay. Miss Woodberry then referred to the women of the club working continuously in its interest. She spoke with enthusiasm of the present president, Mrs. Marie Louise Myrick, one of the most prominent women in Georgia, and at present at the head of one of the most flourishing newspapers in the state. She not only has entire management of the business department, but to a great extent directs with tact and brilliancy the political policy of her paper.

Miss Woodberry expressed beautifully her appreciation as well as that of the entire club of the excellent work of its president, Mrs. William King. She was one of the charter members, and was affectionately alluded to by Miss Woodberry as the "mother of the club." The work as president of the club, accomplished by Mrs. Leona Beck Ellis, was referred to in the most complimentary terms, also that of the secretary, Mrs. A. M. Penn.

Miss Woodberry concluded her report by an eloquent tribute to Miss Ellen Dortch, the former secretary, who had filled that position with such success.

Mrs. Lowe Re-elected. After the matters pertaining to the constitution and by laws had been settled the election of officers for the state federation began, and it was decided nominations should be by ballot. The three ladies nominated for the office of president were Mrs. Albert Cox, Mrs. J. K. Otley and Mrs. W. B. Lowe. On the announcement Mrs. Otley arose and in a beautiful and womanly speech withdrew, begging her friends to use their interest for her friend, Mrs. Lowe. Mrs. Cox withdrew in a speech characteristic of her dignity, strength and generosity.

On motion made by Mrs. James Jackson and seconded by Mrs. William King, Mrs.

MRS. W. B. LOWE.

Who Was on Yesterday Elected President of the Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Lowe was unanimously elected president of the Georgia federation. Mrs. Lowe's organization of the Atlanta Woman's Club, assisted ably as she has been by Mrs. Albert Cox and the other officers, bespeaks more than anything her force and capacity as leader.

The officers elected to complete the duties of the new federation are all representative women, with experience as club women, and we undoubtedly develop this organization of Georgia women into one that will be second to none in power and influence.

They are: First vice president, Mrs. Lindsay Johnson, of Rome; second vice president, Miss Fitch, of Milledgeville; secretary, Mrs. Heard, of Elberton; and treasurer, Mrs. Cochran, of Barnesville.

Mrs. Hobbs's Reception. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Arthur Hobbs entertained her friends at an elegant afternoon reception at which several hundred guests were entertained. It was the first large affair of the kind of the season, and the array of elegant and tasteful toilettes on the fair women guests with all the surroundings of the charming home of the hostess, made the scene a brilliant one. The reception room, hallways and dining room had the favored decorations of palms in evidence, while the dining table, with its beautiful center piece of various colored chrysanthemums, was a study in good taste and elegance. Delicious refreshments were served, punch from an al-lone in the hallway, and music added to the merriment of the occasion. The gracious and charming hostess received her guests in an elegant reception room of black duchesse satin made splendid by ornaments of cut jet. Among the many ladies receiving with her was Mrs. Henry Grady, in black satin, the low-cut corsage trimmed with a bertha of exquisite point duchesse lace. Miss Edw. Peters was charming in a dainty toilet of cream grenadine brocade in pale amethyst flowers and finished with a corsage drapery of white silk muslin. Mrs. Charles Reed wore a black cut jet gown of black satin, trimmed with cut jet.

Finishing the neck was a cluster of Russian violets. Mrs. Clarence Knowles was handsome in her reception gown of pure white satin. Mrs. A. W. Calhoun wore black mousseline de sole over a becoming shade of amber silk. Mrs. Henry Grady, Jr., was lovely in a French gown of rose silk, the corsage finished with white and a touch of jeweled embroidery. Mrs. Samuel Stickney wore a becoming toilet of black and pink. Mrs. Harry Atkinson wore white organdie with trimmings of blue ribbons. Mrs. Baird wore a beautiful gown of emerald color and white. Mrs. George S. May wore an elegant toilet of white with stripes of cadet blue. Mrs. Eugene Spaulding wore a quaint and becoming toilet of pure white with a sash of American beauty satin. Mrs. Otley was very much admired in pink silk. Mrs. Hoyle wore a becoming gown of lemon-colored brocade. Mrs. Archibald Davis wore black velvet with trimmings of duchesse lace. Miss Laura Knowles and Miss Smith wore pure white. Miss Mamie May wore blue silk brocade in pink buds. Miss Gussie Grady wore pink. And the gowns of the visitors were unusually handsome.

NOBLE LIFE ENDED

Mrs. Willis F. Westmoreland Calmly Breathed Her Last Yesterday.

DEATH WAS NOT EXPECTED

After a Lingering Illness of Many Weeks She Dies Surrounded by Her Family and Friends.

After several weeks of patient suffering, Mrs. Willis Westmoreland calmly breathed her last yesterday afternoon at 8 o'clock. Although Mrs. Westmoreland had been in ill health for many months, her death was not expected, and the announcement will cause surprise and sorrow to a host of friends, who loved and admired her. The funeral arrangements will be announced this afternoon.

The sorrow of her death has cast a mantle of gloom over many hearts here. For number of years her health admitted of her going constant to society, where she had reigned as a young and beautiful matron, but the memory of her was fresh in the minds of all who knew her casually then, while the friends still found her about her own home a patient sufferer, a gentle and loving spirit, for she had grown, through suffering, to be more of heaven than earth.

Her nature was one intensely generous and loyal. She was the truest of wives, friends and mothers, and her earnest effort seemed always to hide from the dear ones about her all the physical pain that was hers.

Indeed, it was this gentle, self-immolation, this determination to keep up and show no sign of decline, which led her mother and sister to leave her but a few weeks ago, and to attend her last journey in Baltimore. Returning last Friday they were shocked to find her so apparently ill, but did not at that time apprehend anything serious, although she had been then confined to her bed for eight weeks. From this time she sank rapidly. Each day, even each hour, bringing some apparent change for the worse, until she was forever released from her suffering yesterday at twilight.

She was the second daughter of Judge and Mrs. Lochrane, and married at an early age Dr. Willis Westmoreland, the distinguished surgeon. She was only twenty-eight at the time of her death, and she left two children—Elma, a girl of twelve years, and Willis, a boy of seven. The young daughter was her constant nurse and attendant during her illness, and every care was lavished upon her by her husband and her family.

The illness goes out from all who knew her to her husband and children, her sisters and brother and the bereaved mother, upon whose gentle shoulders has been so often laid the cross of affliction.

BRYAN CLUB HAS A BIG RALLY.

John S. Wise To Speak in Montgomery—Improving River Channel. Montgomery, Ala., October 29.—(Special.)—The Montgomery Bryan club had a fine rally here tonight at the courthouse. Rallying speeches were made by Hon. T. L. Bulger, Hon. J. T. Hedlin, Judge Thornton and others, and the audience responded cordially. The utmost confidence exists among Bryan's friends here, and a triumph for him in Tuesday's election is predicted.

Hon. John S. Wise Will Speak. Hon. John S. Wise, of New York, will discuss the political issues of the day at the courthouse tomorrow afternoon. He is an orator of national reputation, and will be greeted by a large audience. A cordial invitation has been extended to everybody, especially to the citizens of the surrounding towns and county precincts.

Colbert Gets Her Share. Colbert county furnishes one of the coadjutors of the campaign. That county has five candidates for electoral college, or one for each party. It is regarded as a little remarkable that one county should have furnished one of the eleven nominees for each of the five tickets that are before the people in the present contest.

Improving the River Channels. Captain C. B. Percy, of the government force which is at work improving the river channel between this city and Selma and between that city and Mobile, has been in the city for several days. He says that the work done by the government in building jetties at Hurricane Bluff has increased the depth of the channel at that point from two to four feet, and he believes it will scour out to a permanent depth of about six feet. The force has been moved to the next obstruction at Canton Bluff.

Mr. Wilmer Grigg Dead. The death of Mr. Wilmer Richard Grigg, at his home in Winona, Miss., yesterday, will be learned by his friends all over Alabama with peculiar regret. Mr. Grigg was an Alabamian, having lived in this state all of his life, first at Greensboro, and afterwards for ten or twelve years at Birmingham. He married Miss Mary Sadler in the latter city several years ago, and she and two children, twins, only three weeks of age, survive him. Mrs. Grigg was not there at the time of her husband's death, having been for a month on a visit to her father's family in Montgomery. Mr. Grigg was taken ill during her absence, and knowing that news of his illness would distress his wife in her nervous condition incident to the birth of the children, he did not inform any of his relatives of his ill health until he was in a dying condition. He died without seeing his babies. His remains were brought here today and will be interred in the cemetery here tomorrow. He was railroad agent at Winona at the time of his death and was making money. He was an exemplary gentleman of thirty-one years of age and had a most promising career before him.

Killed in a Runaway. An Anneton, Ala., special says: "E. M. Clark, a well-to-do farmer of the Duke community of this county, died this morning from injuries received in a runaway yesterday. He was driving home from the neighborhood road, when the mule attached to his buggy became frightened and ran down a steep hill. Mr. Clark was thrown out against a tree and his skull fractured."

WOFFORD FINED AND JAILED. Man Who Tampered with Juries Is Handled by the Courts. Gadsden, Ala., October 29.—(Special.)—T. J. Wofford, the man who was yesterday hauled over the coals by Judge Disque for contempt of court in tampering with and talking to a drawn jury in the matter of Dan and Armstrong against the Tennessee and Coosa railroad, was arraigned in the city court today. Wofford had made a systematic attempt to tamper with the jury before being impounded. He made his bond of $500 yesterday, Mayor R. A. Mitchell being his bondsman.

This morning the judge simply reviewed the evidence as brought out yesterday and gave Wofford a most scathing lecture. Judge Disque gave him a fine of $50 and five days in jail. Wofford is a member of the county commissioners' court, and he and all his family have long been prominent in the political affairs of the county. The case will be taken before the grand jury.

FUNERAL OF THE "KID ORATOR"

OBSEQUIES WERE HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Attaches of the Lyceum Theater Start a Subscription and Give the Boy a Decent Burial.

The remains of Theodore Thoesen, the "kid orator," were interred yesterday afternoon at the Western cemetery. The boy died at the hospital Sunday night and it was supposed at first that his body would be dissected, but several ladies in West End, interested in the boy, decided to make an effort to find his parents.

The body was held pending this search, but the ladies were unable to find out anything regarding either the home or the parents of the boy and it was supposed that he would either be dissected or put into a pauper's grave. At this juncture, however, several of the attaches of the Lyceum theater, Mr. Walter Taylor being at the head, started a subscription list at the theater, the result of which was that an amount sufficient to give the bright young fellow a decent burial was raised.

The obsequies were held at the undertaking establishment of Hilburn & Bowden yesterday afternoon. Rev. Frank S. Hudson officiating. The whole history of the boy is enveloped in mystery, so far as anyone has been able to ascertain. Just when he came to Atlanta, no one knows. He was discovered by Mr. John Colvin at the depot one afternoon, and his precocious nature and strange bearing was at once noticed by that gentleman.

His oration on the silver question on the streets of this city gained for him the title of "Kid Orator," by which he has since been known. About two months ago he disappeared and was supposed to have been killed. The next news of him was that he had died at the Grady hospital. His parents, who were supposed to be in the employ of a shroud of mystery, but many friends which he made will be glad to know that he was given a decent burial.

Why do you wait? Why not prevent sickness by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood and will keep the system free from rheumatism and other complaints due to impure blood.

TIE TRUST BREAKS

Western Competition Forces the Prices Down Several Notches.

CHEAP TIES NOW FOR SALE

Relief to the Farmers Comes Late. Many Will Take Advantage of the Price.

The high price of the trust tie has at last been broken and cotton ties can now be obtained at a greatly reduced price.

The price was broken by the fact that a western concern has been the manufacturer of the same ties and are selling them at a lower price than that demanded by the trust. The trust met the new price, and this has caused the new ties to be cheaper now than before.

The tie trust has been fought all summer by the commissioner of agriculture and by the farmers throughout the state. Now the trust has been broken and the old price continued to hold sway. Late in the season a tie that could take the place of the trust tie was invented, but its lateness caused it to be of little use.

Mr. Frank Davies, confidential man to Mr. W. W. Bierce, of New Orleans, who has broken the trust price, was in the city yesterday and was asked about the matter of causing the trust to reduce its price on cotton ties.

"Yes," said Mr. Davies, at the Aragon, "Mr. William W. Bierce, of New Orleans, has broken the high prices of cotton ties. Mr. Bierce manufactures cotton ties and comes in contact with the cotton trade. He is in the reason his correspondence was loaded with requests for cotton ties at reasonable prices, and finding all the eastern manufacturers were quoting no price at all until last year's stocks were exhausted, he set about to find some one who would go into the business with him. And it was no easy task.

"The making of cotton ties is big business to undertake, takes a very extensive mill, but the Illinois Steel company with their thirty millions of capital expressed themselves as anxious and willing to go into the market.

"The bagging trust of a couple of years since is still fresh in the minds of the farmers, but had no comparison to the enormity of the trust that has recently formed. The farmers are disappointed that they have been forced to pay exorbitant prices for their requirements.

"Why, the first day Mr. Bierce went upon the market he found that the price of cotton ties was reduced from 30 cents to 20 cents. He was then forced to force their prices to 15 cents.

"We realize fully, as well as anybody, that we are late getting into the market, but we are determined to better remedy existing evils no matter how late the change may take place.

"The farmers have a hard enough time to get their crops without being compelled to pay more for their ties than they are actually worth, as they have been doing in the case of the cotton ties.

"And not only this, but the cotton ties, but the trust in a great many of the cotton states were compelling the farmer to buy his bagging from them, otherwise they would have lost their business.

"Mr. Davies was somewhat slow in answering the question as to whether the Illinois Steel Company was not approached with a view to keeping them out of the market, but he said that he was not at all surprised that they would be approached for believing they were, and the effort did not succeed.

"He reached another case of the south and west going hands and making themselves entirely independent of the east, and the farmer, the cotton factor, the buyer and the shipper can feel assured that the Illinois Steel Company and Mr. Bierce are in the business to stay. The active campaign which we have begun we shall push to the utmost of our ability. We are not easily daunted, and this time we are more determined than ever.

"No, it is not a selfish motive that has prompted us to go into the business. Many of our customers looked to us for a remedy that they would not be caught in a similar manner another season. You may say that the farmers are not going to be going to meet whatever competition that is offered, and we won't be long in making a trade when the opportunity presents itself."

DEATH OF MR. CRIM.

Mr. W. M. Crim died yesterday afternoon after a lingering illness at his late residence, corner of Foundry and Lowe streets. He was an old citizen of Atlanta and was for many years a coach builder for the Central railroad.

He had reached the age of sixty-seven years and leaves a wife and five daughters. The arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been completed and they will be announced later. The interment will occur at Westview cemetery.
